

IS IT NECESSARY TO RETURN TO SCHOOL? BELIEVE TO BELIEVE COULD BE

Continued from First Page.

gation of which was launched to day, came from a Boston society woman who told the Morse family that a girl who looked like Rosamond sailed from San Francisco to New York on the steamship Virginia last January.

The vessel left San Francisco six days after Rosamond disappeared from her Brookline home and touched at Panama City, Costa Rica and Havana, arriving at New York on February 20.

This, according to the searchers, may have been a clue to throw them interested in following her trail, and that this woman suspected that she may have departed soon after for Europe from a Canadian port, thus covering up the passport trail which detectives had fruitless in this country.

HAD ACCOMPANIES.

Police believe that an accomplice may well have aided her—that she was met by someone in an automobile at the foot of the hill on which the Morse home on Fairmount st. is situated, and that this someone drove her far on her way or else left her at a hotel, from which she departed the next morning.

The supposed accomplices may have been a girl chum or schoolmate, a boy friend, or even a man in a taxi-driver, in the opinion of the searchers, who thus far have not progressed in their attempt to solve the mystery on this or any other theory.

Scores of telegrams, calls, letters and messages have been received by Edward W. Morse, Jr., Boston broker, since the missing Rosamond's disappearance, none in various ways.

Girl Like Rosamond Seen in Shop Near Westland Ave.

"About 2:30 I saw a girl pass me on Massachusetts ave., near Westland ave., and I was struck by the fact that she was a blonde and noticeably like Rosamond," Tyson told the searchers.

She went to a tailor shop, appeared with a coat over her arm and walked down Westland ave. to an apartment house near the Hotel Huntington. I looked at her curiously as she passed me the second time and she appeared to start and hesitate before going on.

LITTLE PATH IN CLUE.

Morse said he would investigate, but he did not place much hope in this information which followed the explosion of another possible clue regarding a girl with long blonde hair, like Rosamond, who also with a scar on her forehead, who has recently gone into training as a nurse at the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital.

The girl was found at the nurse's home of the hospital, where she lived, and it proved to be a remarkable girl who entered the training class for nurses last September.

Information regarding her similarity to the missing girl in Brookline, however, came from a woman who had visited her home in the Morse's home to one of the hospital buildings.

Another report placed Rosamond on Beacon Hill doing social service work, and this information, when investigated, as is a "tip" that she went to Florida for a vacation, and that she was with a group of waitresses for a fashionable restaurant.

CALL FAMILY RETICENT.

The searchers are amazed at the complete lack of clues which they believe that relatives of members of the family is handicapping them, especially as regards the missing Rosamond may have had in running away.

Rosamond's sister, Helen, 16, may have valuable information, but in the belief of the police, and they also think that Mrs. Helen Althorn, widow of Rosamond's father, is reticent.

Friend of Family Says Girl Never Drank or Smoked

"Rosamond is one of the sweetest girls one can imagine, not only in appearance, but in character and consideration for others," said a woman, "who was acquainted and refined, natural and normal, inclined to keep her thoughts to herself."

"She wasn't the type that sought thrills or adventure, and I don't believe she has gone to France, as she had said she had, for she was in a convent. In fact she always said that she liked convents."

Once heard her say that she knew she left her only wished she had confided in him, for he had known she wanted to live alone, and he would not let her go, but to adjust herself. But she did not make a confidant of either her father or her sister. I don't know what was in the note she left, but it was a letter to her father.

DIDN'T SMOKE OR DRINK.

Rosamond was a strict vegetarian and she didn't smoke or drink. She was a good girl, a good student, and she was a good friend. She was a good girl, a good student, and she was a good friend.

SUICIDE FEARED

The possibility of suicide or foul play, although vague, is not being ignored, and the authorities planned search on this basis and, possibly, to drag the reservoir bordering on Royalton st., Brookline, near the girl's home.

While it is not believed she planned suicide at the time she decided to leave, but it is thought she may have been overwhelmed with the hopelessness of her dream of escape, as she, a girl of only 18, stepped out into the loneliness of the night.

It is also pointed out that she may have become desperate by slipping running away and turned her thought to death, and this is why the search for her is being pushed with all vigor—to save her before it is too late.

The investigating authorities contend that all indications point to the fact that she is alive somewhere but may be in desperate need of help.

THEORY OF FOUL PLAY.

A theory of foul play engages some of their attention, chiefly because of the lonely walk she may have taken through the open night in which she was alone, unless there was an accomplice with her.

A man who believes he saw Rosamond in the Back Bay yesterday called at the Morse home today to inform the girl, regarding the missing private is John Tyson of Astor st.

WHAT? IN "SEAT OF LEARNING"

Francis E. Slatery, chairman, is shown above pointing out the boiler room of the school, which he is pointing out to a Peterboro school to Senator James A. Torrey, chairman of the committee on the Kellogg session of the school.

The tour of inspection was continued with a bit of frolic in the atmosphere.

Under a proposed bill, the existing schoolhouse commission, appointed by the mayor, would be abolished and a new one established, the Governor, mayor and school committee members each.

The new commission would be unpaid.

The legislative committee, which was collecting evidence on the condition of the schoolhouse, was accompanied by Herbert Patterson, city engineer, and Eugene McCarthy, electrical engineer; William McPherson, heating and ventilating engineer; and Arthur Wilson, chief inspector of buildings.

Judge Michael Sullivan, chairman of the school committee and sponsor of the bill for the removal of the present commission, also accompanied the committee. The tour included visits to the site of proposed new buildings, the city playground, and the new high school for girls.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

STUDENT CLASH AT INSPECTOR

Gray interrupted and precipitated the verbal clash.

The tour of inspection was continued with a bit of frolic in the atmosphere.

Under a proposed bill, the existing schoolhouse commission, appointed by the mayor, would be abolished and a new one established, the Governor, mayor and school committee members each.

The new commission would be unpaid.

The legislative committee, which was collecting evidence on the condition of the schoolhouse, was accompanied by Herbert Patterson, city engineer, and Eugene McCarthy, electrical engineer; William McPherson, heating and ventilating engineer; and Arthur Wilson, chief inspector of buildings.

Judge Michael Sullivan, chairman of the school committee and sponsor of the bill for the removal of the present commission, also accompanied the committee. The tour included visits to the site of proposed new buildings, the city playground, and the new high school for girls.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

OPTION TO STAY IN FRANCE BY

Continued from First Page.

arrangements pending a formal ruling by the War Department.

While Washington society speculated over possible developments should Mr. Simon uphold his predecessor, the Vice-President, his hostesses finally declined to be drawn into further discussion of the affair.

Much interest attached today to the seating arrangements at the White House dinner attended last night by the Vice-President and Mrs. E. E. Gann.

SOCIETY IS FIZZLED.

Society was escorted to the table by the President and the Vice-President accompanied by Hoover. Other guests included Hugh Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, and Adolph Ochs.

Some wondered today if the President's decision to be construed as an example for his friends and acquaintances generally. It was learned, however, that the invitations were extended some time before the controversy over the Kellogg session of the school.

It is understood Mr. Curtis and Mrs. Gann have accepted many invitations for the immediate future and his friends insist that neither the vice-president nor his hostesses be made to make any socializing question. Meanwhile, society hostesses are perplexed on what course to pursue.

FIGHTS FOR "RIGHTS"

In some instances the hosts at the dinner have abided by the Kellogg order, and Mr. Curtis and Mrs. Gann have accepted the arrangement. This was true at a recent dinner party given by Edward D. McCann, which was attended by some diplomats and their wives.

Mr. Curtis is represented as being concerned with upholding the dignity of the president's position, and the vice-president in making an issue over any particular social situation.

Secretary Simon said today he had not yet had time to go into the question of the ruling made by the Kellogg order, but he said he was busy on other matters, particularly the Kellogg order.

Under a proposed bill, the existing schoolhouse commission, appointed by the mayor, would be abolished and a new one established, the Governor, mayor and school committee members each.

The new commission would be unpaid.

The legislative committee, which was collecting evidence on the condition of the schoolhouse, was accompanied by Herbert Patterson, city engineer, and Eugene McCarthy, electrical engineer; William McPherson, heating and ventilating engineer; and Arthur Wilson, chief inspector of buildings.

Judge Michael Sullivan, chairman of the school committee and sponsor of the bill for the removal of the present commission, also accompanied the committee. The tour included visits to the site of proposed new buildings, the city playground, and the new high school for girls.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

OPTION TO STAY IN FRANCE BY

Continued from First Page.

arrangements pending a formal ruling by the War Department.

While Washington society speculated over possible developments should Mr. Simon uphold his predecessor, the Vice-President, his hostesses finally declined to be drawn into further discussion of the affair.

Much interest attached today to the seating arrangements at the White House dinner attended last night by the Vice-President and Mrs. E. E. Gann.

SOCIETY IS FIZZLED.

Society was escorted to the table by the President and the Vice-President accompanied by Hoover. Other guests included Hugh Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, and Adolph Ochs.

Some wondered today if the President's decision to be construed as an example for his friends and acquaintances generally. It was learned, however, that the invitations were extended some time before the controversy over the Kellogg session of the school.

It is understood Mr. Curtis and Mrs. Gann have accepted many invitations for the immediate future and his friends insist that neither the vice-president nor his hostesses be made to make any socializing question. Meanwhile, society hostesses are perplexed on what course to pursue.

FIGHTS FOR "RIGHTS"

In some instances the hosts at the dinner have abided by the Kellogg order, and Mr. Curtis and Mrs. Gann have accepted the arrangement. This was true at a recent dinner party given by Edward D. McCann, which was attended by some diplomats and their wives.

Mr. Curtis is represented as being concerned with upholding the dignity of the president's position, and the vice-president in making an issue over any particular social situation.

Secretary Simon said today he had not yet had time to go into the question of the ruling made by the Kellogg order, but he said he was busy on other matters, particularly the Kellogg order.

Under a proposed bill, the existing schoolhouse commission, appointed by the mayor, would be abolished and a new one established, the Governor, mayor and school committee members each.

The new commission would be unpaid.

The legislative committee, which was collecting evidence on the condition of the schoolhouse, was accompanied by Herbert Patterson, city engineer, and Eugene McCarthy, electrical engineer; William McPherson, heating and ventilating engineer; and Arthur Wilson, chief inspector of buildings.

Judge Michael Sullivan, chairman of the school committee and sponsor of the bill for the removal of the present commission, also accompanied the committee. The tour included visits to the site of proposed new buildings, the city playground, and the new high school for girls.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

Poincare Praises Herrick as True Friend of France

Paris, April 4.—Premier Poincare, in his eulogy, paid great tribute to Ambassador Herrick as an upright, fearless man and friend. He said: "He was above all a faithful representative of American policy and followed scrupulously the instructions of his Government. But, whether big or small, he sought with gentle obstinacy solutions compatible with French interests."

He made every effort to remove prejudice and bring respective views nearer one another.

FOUND IN PANTRY.

The three babies seized in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

According to police and state inspectors, the babies were found in the house, a pantry equipped with padlock and trap, it is charged, but which was unlocked when first the police officer called and again when Miss Mary T. McCann, state inspector of maternity hospitals and infant boarding houses, made a visit accompanied by a nurse and an officer.

OPTION TO STAY IN FRANCE BY

Continued from First Page.

arrangements pending a formal ruling by the War Department.

While Washington society speculated over possible developments should Mr. Simon uphold his predecessor, the Vice-President, his hostesses finally declined to be drawn into further discussion of the affair.

Much interest attached today to the seating arrangements at the White House dinner attended last night by the Vice-President and Mrs. E. E. Gann.

SOCIETY IS FIZZLED.

Society was escorted to the table by the President and the Vice-President accompanied by Hoover. Other guests included Hugh Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, and Adolph Ochs.

Some wondered today if the President's decision to be construed as an example for his friends and acquaintances generally. It was learned, however, that the invitations were extended some time before the controversy over the Kellogg session of the school.

It is understood Mr. Curtis and Mrs. Gann have accepted many invitations for the immediate future and his friends insist that neither the vice-president nor his hostesses be made to make any socializing question. Meanwhile, society hostesses are perplexed on what course to pursue.

FIGHTS FOR "RIGHTS"

In some instances the hosts at the dinner have abided by the Kellogg order, and Mr. Curtis and Mrs. Gann have accepted the arrangement. This was true at a recent dinner party given by Edward D. McCann, which was attended by some diplomats and their wives.

Mr. Curtis is represented as being concerned with upholding the dignity of the president's position, and the vice-president in making an issue over any particular social situation.

Secretary Simon said today he had not yet had time to go into the question of the ruling made by the Kellogg order, but he said he was busy on other matters, particularly the Kellogg order.

Under a proposed bill, the existing schoolhouse commission, appointed by the mayor, would be abolished and a new one established, the Governor, mayor and school committee members each.

The new commission would be unpaid.

The legislative committee, which was collecting evidence on the condition of the schoolhouse, was accompanied by Herbert Patterson, city engineer, and Eugene McCarthy, electrical engineer; William McPherson, heating and ventilating engineer; and Arthur Wilson, chief inspector of buildings.

Judge Michael Sullivan, chairman of the school committee and sponsor of the bill for the removal of the present commission, also accompanied the committee. The tour included visits to the site of proposed new buildings, the city playground, and the new high school for girls.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

At 9 a. m., an hour before the service at the embassy, detachments of the police and the city police followed the route of the cortege was to follow to the city hall.

STATE BARBER, SHOP CONTROL

PUBLIC HEALTH IMPROVED, IT IS CLAIMED

Protection of the public from disease and inefficient workmen through the establishment of a state board of registration in barbering, bobbing and beauty shops was urged by speakers at the hearing today before the House ways and means committee.

Charles W. Short, president of the State Branch of Journeymen Barbers, said, "20 per cent of the barber shops are not conducted as they ought to be and that 50 per cent could be improved upon." He estimated the number of barbers at 18,000 with approximately 4,000 shops.

Many of the barber shops, particularly in Boston, were scored by the speaker as places where "countertop barbers" are turned out after about three months' training. Registration fees would be set up and physical examinations would be required.

CREDITORS ACT TO SALVAGE PURITAN

Notetholders and creditors of the Tieton Bros. Company, Inc., are looking with interest and hope today to the eight Greater Boston notetholders who are meeting in an endeavor to take over the concern and conduct the affairs.

One of the investors, an $25-year-old man, put his entire life savings of $12,000 into the venture.

Clarence A. Barnes, appointed receiver of the company following the refusal of the public utilities department to permit the company to continue the sale of its $500 "gold notes," has sent out notices to the creditors and advised them of the efforts of the eight stockholders to save the company.

It is estimated that a total of $200,000 was sunk in the company. The note holders and stockholders are principally women who invested small amounts in the hope of large returns.

To Pay Visit to Hoover

President Hoover will greet the members of the Boston Chamber of Commerce "Ladies Center" party when they reach Washington on April 24.

To make possible the reception by the President, the "crusade" departure from Boston has been shifted from April 21 to April 23.

Richmond, Va., and Victoria, B. C., have been dropped from the tour's itinerary.

Boy Staters Win Harvard Awards

The men's share of the honors in the annual award of scholarships at Harvard College, down at Cambridge, went to students from Massachusetts homes. The awards varied from $200 to $700 each.

Ray State students winning scholarships were Samuel B. Boyden of Cambridge, Simon J. Dumas of Dorchester, Paul M. Zoli of Roxbury, Alphonse F. Forstall of East Boston, Arnold Isenberg of Boston, Peter H. Keady of Boston, Carl B. Miller of Springfield, Theodore Placansky of South Boston, Arthur Klein of Chelsea, Almen G. Abadian of Arlington, Charles Beuner of Cambridge and John P. Carnes of Hingham.

Bomb Hurls 7 From Beds; Wrecks House

New York, April 4 (INS)—Labor differences are believed to have been responsible for the bombing today of the Brooklyn home of Emilio Desli, a clerk and suit union officer.

The house was wrecked, seven persons were hurt and beds were smashed.

Farmer Kills Two in Argument Over Cutting Trees

Marshall, Mo., April 4 (INS)—J. J. Blaisdell, 50, and his son, Edward, are dead and Walter A. Odell, farmer, is held for authorities today following an argument over cutting down trees.

Odell, with three helpers, was cutting down a clump of trees between his property and the Blaisdell farm. Both farmers claimed the trees.

IRMA KALLINA

Irma Kallina of 152 Heath st., Jamaica Plain, is one of the latest entrants in the Typical American Girl Quest. She is 18 years old and has a brown boyish bob. Another nomination is that of Helen L. Price, Y. W. C. A., Worcester. All nominations must be made before midnight, April 13. (See story on Page 9.)

AGED TURIST'S NAME BEFORE ONCE MORE

Attacks upon the aged Judge Charles L. Long of the Hampden County probate court, which have featured several committee hearings at the State House, were continued today before the Senate ways and means committee.

The committee was sitting on a bill authorizing the appointment of an additional judge for that section.

Representative Oakley of Chicago, who claimed he represented two-thirds of the lawyers of the county, complained of Judge Long's "domineering manner."

He charged that the judge has "broken the backs of many of the young lawyers by his insults."

Representative Giffney of Springfield declared that Judge Long possessed an "indiscreet temper."

Opponents of the measure, among whom was Atty. Nathan P. Avery of Holyoke, protested that the bill was an indirect method of impeaching.

Warm, Rain on Friday

Increasing warmth and increasing cloudiness was the weather man's promise for Boston today. Partly cloudy tonight and Friday. Probably some light showers Friday. Slightly warmer tonight; light to west winds.

Service for Foch

New York, April 4 (AP)—In historic old Trinity Church, down at the head of Wall st., through whose portals Lafayette passed more than 60 years in revolutionary days, a memorial service was held for Ferdinand Foch, marshal of France.

Into the Chill Night, a Wanderer at 17

The stars, cold and pale, studding the canopy of the sky, lie sheathing the reservoir, blank, glistering and crackling in the January night.

Twelve, underfoot—and above, the dry crackle of windless snow.

Ex-Hub Man Notifies Bomb Gang to Lay Off

Fearful that his new home, purchased from a former chief of police in Chicago, might be bumbled, John Landis, one time Boston investment broker, has broadcast a statement to the effect he has no interest in underworld affairs of the Windy City. It was learned today.

It was not until the deal had gone through that Landis, who formerly lived at the Hotel Elita Carlton here, was informed of the identity of his original owner, and he was afraid bombers might not know of the transfer of ownership.

He appealed to the Chicago newspapers to stay at a hotel with his wife and two children. Landis' young daughter Hope presented the world files with a loving cup when they were guests of Boston last year.

That under a State law of 1904 a home might be converted into a container and be subject to seizure and confiscation in the event of an illegal liquor sale was stressed at a legislative hearing today by Atty. Joseph A. Conway.

Conway said that if the Supreme Court should so decide, it would endanger rights of persons or institutions holding mortgages.

Conway advocated passage of a bill to provide that liens on motor vehicles seized in liquor law violations be settled from the sale of the vehicles and the money paid to the party holding the lien.

Karl Benz Dead

Berlin, April 4 (AP)—Karl Benz, pioneer in the motor car industry in Germany after whom the German Benz cars were named, died at Ladenburg, Baden, today. He was 81 years old.

Waltham Scouts Get 'Death' Threat

A "black hand" letter, threatening an attack by the "Klanke Scout Club," was received by the American Legion Boy Scout troop of Waltham. The letter warned the troop that unless it disbanded it would be "put out of business."

Ex-Quincy Man Dies After Fighting Fire

Middleton, Ct., April 4 (INS)—Howard W. Rice, a retired school principal of Quincy, Mass., died from heart trouble at Shalleville, here, today, after running a neighbor's home to aid in putting out a brush fire.

Balfour to Sell Historic Mansion

London, April 4 (AP)—Announcement that the Earl of Balfour has decided to sell his house at Carlton Gardens, home of famous statesmen for a century and the Balfour residence since 1871, has given rise to reports that he is leaving public life.

McCormack to 'Single'?

New York, April 4 (AP)—John McCormack, back from abroad, is flirting with the ladies. He has offers and is much interested since he heard an Al Jolson claim.

How much pretty Rosamond Morse may have been influenced by the vanities of Alton Corbett and John Smith is known, undoubtedly, only to herself. Or she may not have been influenced.

What hunger in her heart impelled her to step secretly out of her home, taking with her only summer clothing, may or may not be within the knowledge of a second or even a third person.

Disappearing is such an easy way of outwitting something—

TYPICAL GIRLS! THEY ARE IN LIST OF THE VERY BEST

3 TIMES HIS TRAP HIT AND NEVER AFTER LONG CHASE

OUTRIST FOUND TO BLAME FOR DAD'S DEATH

Ram, April 4 (AP)—William G. Laporte of Haverhill was held responsible, in an inquest finding reported today by Judge Robert W. Hill, for the death of his father, Alfred Laporte, who was fatally injured when an automobile driven by his son collided with a hearse in Middleton on March 24.

In his finding Judge Hill said the younger Laporte was "either was in the car or was sufficiently under the influence of liquor to cause him to fail to take proper precautions and to be unable to handle his car in the emergency."

The driver, who was arrested after the accident, is scheduled to appear in court tomorrow for trial on charges of driving while under the influence of liquor, reckless driving and drunkenness.

MORGAN WILL ESCAPE U. S. PROSECUTION

New York, April 4 (INS)—Prosecution of William M. Morgan, the "bone dry" Congressman from Ohio accused of violating the dry law, appeared to be unlikely today in spite of the testimony developed in U. S. Atty. Charles H. Tuttle's investigation to the effect that Morgan did bring in four bottles of cognac when he landed at this port from Panama on March 23.

The alleged contraband (two bottles of whiskey and two of champagne) Customs Inspector Louis E. Crawford told Tuttle Morgan informed him, was intended for his wife's father, and the Congressman claimed "free entry" of his baggage into this port.

There will be no Federal Grand Jury action, it was asserted by Tuttle. Tuttle intimated prosecution was unlikely for two reasons: Morgan could, if he wished, claim immunity if asked to testify before the grand jury.

Under the federal law a wife cannot testify against her husband in a criminal proceeding.

Lindy in Air Stunts While Anne Watches

Mexico City, April 4 (AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh made a flight over Mexico City while his fiancée, Anne Morrow, remained at the embassy. Lindbergh flew over the embassy residence and swooped low, while Anne, from the courtyard, watched him. The American aviator circled the building several times and then flew to the outskirts of the city.

Contrary to reports the United States Coast Guard cutter, the USS Albatross, was not sent to investigate the disappearance of the passenger on the Mexico City, Brownsville line.

Court Holds 3 in $250,000 Forgery

New York, April 4 (AP)—Charged with having obtained from 110 banks about $250,000 on forged checks, Mrs. Florence Garland, 38, Miss Hester Farrell, 25, and Julius Goldberg, 40, were held in $100,000 bail each today.

Mrs. Garland told police Goldberg was an expert penman, and that she and Miss Farrell had passed checks.

$100,000 FOR A TALKIE!

STAR SIGNS MOVIE CONTRACT

Marilyn Miller, stage star, who has signed $100,000 contract to make a first National Pictures talkie. She may get $150,000 for another picture. Her first appearance will be in "Sally," a Ziegfeld comedy.

'Weaver John' Dead in Haverhill, Aged 72

Haverhill, April 4 (AP)—"Weaver John" is dead. The excitement of a trip to New York to open the recent "Golden Fleece" pageant of the wool industry, which he had been chosen to attend as a typical representative of the workers in the industry, proved too much for him.

"Weaver John," whose real name was John T. Murphy, returned to his home here a week ago Tuesday. Last Monday night he appeared in a short act at a Haverhill theater. Last night he complained of feeling ill. This noon he suffered a shock while sitting in a chair and died soon afterward.

Murphy was 72 years old and had been employed in the Penstock Mills for 50 years. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

Alien Law Halts Romance a Year

Sturbridge, April 4 (AP)—Kept apart a full year by the rigidity of the immigration quota law, John Anderson of Bates Hill and Miss Elizabeth McCay of Scotland, his betrothed, are reunited at St. Providence.

Mr. Anderson has been employed for several years as a bookkeeper for the Steel Manufacturing Company in Providence. Miss McCay has been a teacher in the public schools in Scotland.

ROYAL BRIDAL PARTY IN NORWAY

NEXT KING AND QUEEN OF SCANDINAVIAN NATION

Crown Prince Olaf of Norway and his bride, Princess Marika of Sweden (seated), with their attendants following the wedding ceremony at Oslo, Norway. At the right of the bride couple are the Duke and Duchess of York of England. (Associated Press photo).

MAN WHO PAL'S CASE

A volunteer posse of three taxi-cab drivers today pursued and captured an alleged hit-and-run auto thief who had crashed into a fourth taxicab on Washington st., South End, seriously injuring the operator.

The man injured was Neal J. McCarthy of Surry st., Medford. His chest was crushed as the hit-and-run car, roasting out of Wrentham st., struck his cab at right angles.

RATES FROM CRASH

The auto that caused the accident sped along Washington st. on Broadway, took the corner on two wheels, and raced toward Albany st.

No police officer was in sight at the scene of the collision, so the three taxi men, associates of the crash victim, took up the chase themselves.

The pursuit led through the South End streets, the taxi drivers jockeying for positions which would enable them to crowd the fugitive to the curb without piling up all four machines.

RUNAWAY POCKETED

The runaway was finally pocketed on Albany st. The taxi men pulled him from his seat and threw him into the cab of William J. Byrne, who had led the chase. They then took him to the Lagrange st. police station.

The prisoner identified himself as William J. Crowley of Bedford st., Dorchester. He was booked on charges of larceny of an automobile, reckless driving, drunkenness and going away from the scene of an accident.

The stolen car was taken from in front of a Wrentham st. building longed to Rose C. Fione of Lima st., West End.

McCarthy, the injured driver, was taken to the Haymarket Reformatory.

GOW DEMANDS COURTESY-BY POSTAL FORCE

The exercise of courtesy to post-office patrons is demanded of all postal employees in this district, under the new postal regulations. In a circular letter addressed today by Postmaster Charles R. Murphy to his subordinates.

The citizens who utilize the postal facilities, declares Postmaster Gow, "are not only our customers, they are also our neighbors. They supply the money which pays our salaries and maintains our plant and equipment."

They have created this service for their own benefit and convenience and not for the purpose of providing a means of annoyance to the Government payroll.

The exercise of this courtesy, from the postmaster to the junior laborer, is the want and not the privilege of those whom he serves. Supervisors, window clerks, carriers and mailmen are urged to meet the public in the course of their duties as well as their intentional effort to a patron will not be condoned."

'Death' Talk in Divorce

Alleged death threats by George F. Randall, together with stories of divorce parties featured the testimony in Middlesex Probate Court today of Mrs. Evelyn A. Randall of Beacon st., Somerville, in her suit for divorce.

Charging cruelty, Mrs. Randall said her husband called her names, refused to work, and on returning from weekend absences said he had been out with girls. She said he left her in September of 1932 after a divorce action had been served.

The court took the case under advisement.

Weary Liquor Seller Glad to Rest in Jail

Hamilton, Ont., April 3 (AP)—Ivan Sherran, 35, expressed pleasure on being sentenced to two months imprisonment for selling liquor.

He said he was tired out from people calling at his home at all hours to buy drinks and would welcome the two months rest. A fine sentence was imposed he shook hands with the arresting policeman and the magistrate.

Colleges Must Make New Admission Rules

Dr. F. J. Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., said today that American colleges will soon have to adopt more selective methods in choosing students as most of "our higher institutions of learning are crowded to the doors."

Dehnam Meets Tonight

The adjourned town meeting in Dehnam will be held tonight in Mass. The remainder of the articles of the warrant will be disposed of.

Fine Deaf Mute for Reckless Driving
Melvin J. MacIntyre, 21, a deaf mute of Gilkey st., Watertown, in Waltham Court today was fined
$25 for driving so as to endanger lives.

RHEUMATISM

SUFFERING FROM RHEUMATISM, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS, LUMBAGO, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, PERMANENTLY RELIEVED BY OUR SCIENTIFIC PHYSICAL-THERAPY TREATMENTS.

A FREE TRIAL TREATMENT. Write: Dr. C. C. Cline, N.Y.

Office Hours: 10 A. M. to 7 P. M.
ORTHOMAC INSTITUTE
Suite 906, Central Square Building
678 MASS. Ave., Cambridge, Mass.
TEL. PORTER 0407

PROF. DRANNON'S
Guaranteed Permanent

Large, Deep, Marcel Permanent With or Without Ringlet Ends. Also Round Curl or Swirl Wave.

$ 5.00

COMPLETE
Including
Shampoo
and
Finger Wave

We Successfully Wave
Over an Old Permanent

The difference produced

Shampoo and Finger Wave $1.00

ANT WAVE SYSTEM
R STREET (4th FLOOR)
(SUITE 404)
Without Appointment. No Waiting.
BY APPOINTMENT

Now

Now Direct

arer

tail!

"Figure it out yourself. I tell you what you can buy for $30 to $40 and then come to my factory. The DE CLOTHES I am selling for thousands of men last season and more this spring."

$10 to $15
after you have made compariup of blocks. You don't have if you buy them at Falkson's.

Suits and

oats

SALLIE OWEN RETURNING TO FILM ROLES

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Copyright, 1929, by Loew's, Inc.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Sallie Owen, who has been in Hollywood and is returning to Hollywood to make pictures for Pathe. That's a break for Sallie and a piece of interesting news to her friends, who kept hearing that Sallie was so intrigued with the two-day that she had put the cinema out of her young life.

Shows that any girl who gets a chance in the talkies these days gets it quick. Sallie's first for Pathe is "Joe's College," by Corey Ford, and it stars Eddie Quillan. Pathe sets great store to this Quillan youngster, who is as funny off as he is on the screen.

"Joe's College" is to run serially in College Humor. It was purchased for the movies from the gallery proofs. Joseph Franklin Ford is writing the adaptation, and, best we hope, William Cushman made the announcement in St. Louis, by the way, is booked for three Pathe special.

RALPH FORD, who had the good sense to seek a reconciliation with his wife, Ruth Chatterton, is playing at the Warner Brothers studio. Ralph was formerly engaged to play the most important role in "General Crack," the Harrymore picture. But when he needed an Englishman of his type in "Green Goods," so he now he's George Arliss instead of John Barrymore.

Hollywood thinks pretty well of young Ford, who gave such a good performance in "The Swan." He's been out of the movies for a little time, but with the talkies supreme, he probably will come back to stay now, and he has a new hit with a mighty import, just what you will.

ONE hears vague rumors all the way from Hollywood that the 13 foreign players under contract to the Fox Company will not have their contracts renewed. Of course it's the rumor that is causing the havoc. These players are so limited in their roles. Victor Varconi and Camilla Horn were among the first to leave and I look to see many others traveling to Europe before the end of 1929.

Camilla Horn tried valiantly to hang on to her contract, made before the advent of the talkies, and she finally compromised by going to Germany and making pictures there for Fox.

VICTOR VARCONI is going back to Germany, where an accent doesn't count. He is one of screenland's finest actors, but for the talkies he is useless except in roles where he can speak with Hungarian accent. I saw Mr. and Mrs. Varconi on Easter, walking up the avenue looking for Riverside Drive. He does not seem discouraged at the prospect of returning to Germany, although he loves America and wishes, naturally, that the talkies had remained undiscovered.

WE haven't seen the last of the Collegians. If you think so, you don't know Capt. Laemmle, Jr. He's already making arrangements to have "College Spirit," a talking feature and a sequel to "The Collegians," made at Universal City.

"College Spirit" will be directed by Nat Rosen and George Lewis, Dorothy Gulliver, Eddie Phillips and Hayden Stevenson are in the cast. There must be a million of these near-farmer stories somewhere, or else young J. Laemmle wouldn't be making them. I speak without prejudice, for I never happened to see a better one.

Tired, Burning Feet
Tender feet—tired, aching, burning and swollen feet! The minute you put them into a "Tie" bath you can feel the pain being drawn out and glorious comfort being restored. "Tie" draws out the poison and acids that cause your feet to ache, swell and burn. It also takes the soreness out of corns, calluses and bunions. Get a box of "Tie" at any drug or department store and have real foot comfort at last. Costs only 25¢ per box.

THEATRE

Grant Mitchell at the Holles
"All The King's Men"
By Nicholas Young

WITH the cast pared down to what you might call good homeopathic ratio, and a story of equally limited dimension, Grant Mitchell in "All The King's Men," current attraction at the Holles, behaves as nobly as these restrictions will permit. Mr. Mitchell, in his own way, is a comedian of excellent quality, but in this sentimental opus by Fulton Oursler, he is left chiefly to his own resources. This is a poor reward for an actor who on many occasions has lifted our drooping spirits and made the theater a refuge of joy.

THE plodding playwright, too, is beset by his own problems. In "All The King's Men," Mr. Oursler turns out a neat story, but the grim reality of a middle-aged widower, with a half-grown son, introducing a new and thoroughly charming young wife and mother, presents certain self-evident difficulties into this situation Mr. Mitchell finds himself more or less mired.

It is no place for the man who made "The Bachelor" a standing fiasco comedy of the last three seasons. Still, there is a certain authoritative motion in all that Grant Mitchell gives to his characterization. A deliciously human stance he is more amusing than any character in the picture, but his little humor is more treacherous than ludicrous.

When this new young wife disappears behind the door of motherhood, the complications multiply. There are snarls and snarls to distract the prospective mother; poisoning thoughts arise, that the father may have deeper love for the boy born of another woman than for the one still unborn. This you may be sure, gives Mr. Mitchell something upon which to turn his talents. Try as you may, there is little humor to be found in the situation; not even Mr. Mitchell can lift beyond the point reached by litters and gisles.

It is made clear that Mr. Mitchell's lack is pressing. The circle "The Bachelor" just right for an actor who believes true specialization in the frivolous of life. He is right. The new Mayo Melior is much more convincing. A deliciously human stance is given to the performance, while Hugh Huntley, as an unfortunally rival, makes the most of a very slim role.

REPORTS RADIO SINGLAIER PAYS BY LOST FLIERS SOME CLAIM

London, April 4 (AP).—The Evening News in a dispatch from Melbourne, Australia, says that a Morse code message had been picked up which may have a bearing on the search for Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and the three other missing Southern Cross fliers.

The message, the dispatch says, was weak and fragmentary and contained the name "Smith" and the words "men eating wild food."

A wireless amateur working at his set in Australia is reported receiving the message.

25% to 50% More
Battery Power
EASIER STARTING — LONGER LIFE
WIZARD BATTERY

—now equipped with our new "Double-Power" plates, by actual tests gives 25% to 50% more power than other well-known batteries that usually sell from $5.00 to $8.00 higher than our prices!

25% to 50% more power for easier, quicker starting—15% to 50% longer life for greater economy—better spark/revolutions per hour—less attention, less expense and guaranteed for 3 years satisfactory service by a big, reputable nation-wide organization. Why pay more, regardless of the car you drive? See Wizard before you buy.

Higher Quality at Lower Cost

Wizard Batteries, at double our prices, would be bargains. Yet our economical, direct, one-price cash system of distribution, together with our enormous volume and buying power for all of our chain of 68 stores, enables us now to offer new reduced prices—the lowest ever offered in your car-free-of-charge.

6-volt, 11 extra thick plates; for Ford, Chevrolet, Essex, Plymouth, Nash Light 6, Olds, Overland, Pontiac, Star, Whippet. With old battery. $5.98

6-volt, 13 standard plates; for the above cars. Gives stronger starting impulse. With old battery. $6.40

6-volt, 15 extra thick plates; for Buick, Chrysler, Durant, Hudson, Hup, Nash, Oakland, Studebaker and other large cars. With old battery. $7.45

6-volt, 18 extra thick plates; for practically all large cars. With old battery. $9.25

12-volt, 7 standard plates. Special battery for Dodge cars. With old battery. $9.45

For all other cars at these or similar low prices.

WIZARD SUPER-POWER BATTERIES
More Power, Longer Life, Guaranteed 2 1/2 Years

6-volt, 11 extra thick plates; for Chevrolet, Durant, Hudson, Hup, Nash, Olds, Overland, Pontiac, Star, Whippet, 4 and 6-cylinder. With old battery. $7.95

6-volt, 13 extra thick plates; for Buick, Chrysler, Durant, Hudson, Hup, Nash, Oakland, Studebaker, 4 and 6-cylinder. With old battery. $8.95

Western Auto Supply Co.
68 Stores "World's Leading Auto Accessory Stores" Stores
130 Brookline Ave. 125 Federal St.
Phone Kenmore 2158 Liberty 0668
BOSTON, MASS.
Everything for the Automobile for Less
SATISFACTION OR MONEY BACK

BOY SCOUTS TO SEE 'SINBA' AT FREE SHOWING

Of course, it isn't every Boy Scout that can actually go big game hunting in Africa.

Nevertheless, there is not a Boy Scout in all Greater Boston who cannot get the thrill of shooting his first lion, photographing real rhinoceroses in their private mud-baths, and seeing the immense herds of strange beasts that roam the unexplored African veldt.

The experience won't cost a cent either.

By special arrangement of the Boston Evening American with the management of Tremont Temple and Mr. and Mrs. Max Johnson, world-famous adventurers, the latter are going to give an extra showing of their marvellous African wild-animal movie, "Sinba," at Tremont Temple, Saturday morning—for Boy Scouts only.

Boy Scouts in Greater Boston are invited to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and the Boston Evening American. Donald Smith, scout executive of the Boston council, officially urges boys of his organization to attend.

Admission will be free, but Scouts will be expected to show some evidence of their identity as members of a regular troop. Boys who have them should wear uniforms. Other boys should wear their tenderfoot, second-class, or first-class scout badges.

Adult scout leaders will be present to keep order.

Mr. Johnson is a Boy Scout himself. He is an honorary Scout himself and is an official member of his organization. He is a great fellow on earth.

He took three Scouts with him to Africa last year. Each was 15 years old. All three went "on safari" just like grown-ups. They killed their lion.

Not only will "Sinba" be shown, but Scout guests will see another movie that is a regular Scout favorite. It is an honorary Scout himself and is an official member of his organization. He is a great fellow on earth.

The show will start promptly at 10 o'clock. Tremont Temple seats only 200 persons. Late comers will have to stand.

For Saturday, a good Boy Scout maxim would be "A Scout is punctual."

Einstein Has New Proof of Theories
Berlin, April 4 (INS).—Prof. Albert Einstein today submitted to the Prussian Academy of Sciences a new work to prove the results of his recent theory by another mathematical method. It is based upon the geometrical methods of William Hamilton, an English astronomer and mathematician.

Millionaire Deaths in U. S. 3 Per Cent a Year

Washington, April 3 (AP).—An estimate that 3 per cent of the millionaires of the country die annually was made today by Joseph W. McCoy, Treasury secretary, in an article in the Internal Revenue News in which he placed the gross value of estates in this country that pass to heirs each year at $3,125,000,000.

"As to the mortality among millionaires," McCoy said, "the record shows that 307 returns of net estates of $15 of gross estates, valued in excess of $1,000,000 were made during 1927."

OIL MEN TO LET COURT RULE ON RESTRICTION

New York, April 4 (INS).—R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas Corporation and chairman of the committee on oil conservation, said today he would recommend to the committee and to the regional committee of the American Petroleum Institute that they carry out their plan for limitation of crude oil production as planned, leaving it to the courts to decide whether such restraint is in the public interest or not.

Oil leaders here say it was never intended to violate laws, and they do not believe it would be in violation of the Federal law. "For four years," said Mr. Holmes today, the oil industry has been encouraged, if not instructed, by the president and Federal Oil Conservation Board, to take some effective action through co-operation within the industry. In the interests of conservation of crude oil."

1 Dead, 2 Dying, in Fight Over Girl, 16

West Liberty, Ky., April 4 (INS).—One man was killed and two persons fatally wounded at West Liberty, Ky., today, following a pistol battle over a 16-year-old girl.

The shooting occurred in the home of Ollie Patrick, 40, whose daughter was the cause of the argument. Trigg Cook, indicted on a serious charge in connection with the daughter, was shot while entering the home. He whipped out a revolver and shot the two men.

Have you all of your own teeth?

Unless you take preventive measures now, the day is coming when you may know, to your sorrow, that the true meaning of the phrase "artificial denture" is often the reason and the way to help safeguard health against the coming of this day.

Teeth are only as healthy as the gums. And gums, undernourished and under-exercised, soon surrender to dread diseases that ravage health and often destroy teeth. To prevent this, avail yourself of the best care that modern dentistry offers. Place yourself in the hands of your dentist at least twice a year. And brush your gums when you brush your teeth, every morning and night.

But for this purpose—use Forhan's for the Gums... the dentifrice designed to help firm gums and keep them sound, thus protecting them from the attack of disease.

Use Forhan's regularly. You'll be delighted with the way it makes your gums look and feel. In addition, you'll notice that it effectively and safely cleans teeth and helps to protect them from decay. Get a tube of Forhan's—today!

Forhan's for the gums

★ 4 out of 5 after forty and thousands younger pay the extravagant price of neglect.

ADVERTISE YOUR WANTS IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN

ALL SINGING ALL DANCING

THE MIRACLE PICTURE THAT BRINGS THE STAGE TO THE SCREEN!

THE BROADWAY MELODY
Now showing in New York, Los Angeles and Cleveland at $2.00 top prices
The Screen's New Marvel NOW PLAYING
LOEW'S STATE
Massachusetts Avenue at Norway Street
METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER'S hit of hits!
USUAL LOEW PRICES

BELGIAN GUARDS' BAND SCORES

Boston Smart Set Is Well Represented at Garden Performance

SYMPHONICALLY, AS WELL as socially, the one Boston appearance of King Albert's Guards Band was everything a wise and astute managing committee expected. And while the "Benefit" for this hectic season of affairs are by no means entirely written off the scroll, I doubt if the future holds anything more essentially satisfying than what of music the friends of the Belgian Court rendered from its brasses, its woodwind instruments and its drums. Certainly from a viewpoint strictly artistic, the Guards scored heavily. Socially, the score was high, for the creme de la creme was there—those musically inclined social aristocrats who never disregard sweet charity's call or fail to put in an appearance at such affairs.

LADIES OF THE MANAGING committees complement in the knowledge of a good despatching accomplished, entertained both parties. Mrs. Edward L. Bigelow's animated presence, allied with that of Mrs. Frederick Worth Bux, enlisted one group of the large and smart audience that listened enraptured to the musicians from across the sea. Mrs. Philip Stockton had a small daughter with her, in a group that included the Richard S. Russell, parents of the William Russell who on a day or two ago appeared Mrs. Elizabeth Wyatt of New York. Mrs. James Lawrence had her two daughters, so did the Thomas R. Gannett, Mr. and Mrs. Gannett, and the young Gannetts in their party. Mrs. John Hallowell was there and the William Barons.

THE WILLIAM DEKTERS, THE Dudley Howes, Mr. and Mrs. George Haughton, George C. Greener, Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Cummings, Mr. Ronald T. Lyman, Miss Abby Hunt, the Frank Paines, Mrs. John Livingston Grandin, Mr. Robert Frost, Palmer Franklin Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. Pierpont Blackpole and Mrs. Francis I. Amory were decorative items in the audience. Mrs. Blackpole also chose the midnight color that she wears with such extreme effectiveness. Mrs. Haughton was in purple.

MISS HUNT'S SEVERITY OF costume accentuated its smartness—she can so very satisfyingly contrast the trimness of the tailleur and enrich it with a strand of pearls, a brooch and a velvet sash, and the glint of a diamond or two. Mrs. Hunt's head wore the fur-trimmed hat of white that topped a blonde, all of which Mrs. Ronald Lyman's party was bordered on the warm rose, and Mrs. Paine fortified her band some self against April's March-like breeze with a velvet and sable affair, both beautiful and comfortable.

CARLY PRIVOST'S MEN DID not forget the two fine old Boston institutions—the Infants' Hospital and the Lying-in Hospital. And ladies of the committee who have worked and planned these many days have now contemplated with huge glee the dollars they are able to divert into needy hospital coffers. Mesdames Samuel Warren, Samuel Elliot, Charles Lyman, Jr., Thomas Gannett, Philip Stockton, Edward Warren, Jr., Jean Koshland, Frances I. Amory, et cetera, did just exactly what they set out to do—make that benefit one of the "occasions of the season." They are to be congratulated.

NAMES OF WEIGHT IN THE social scheme appear on the enormous list for that merry occasion which is the annual celebration of professional women handed together in the club of that name. April 12 is the date when the hour is 2 in the afternoon, and Mesdames Theodore Adams, Charles Sumner Bird, Curtis Guild, John Laville, Oliver Lyman, Jr., Nathan Matthews, Arthur Emerson Pearson, Nathaniel Thayer, Herbert Wendell, Roger Wolcott, Elliot Wadsworth and Miss Clara Kendrick Sears constitute the list.

BRIDGE PLAYED AT THE Women's Republican Club in the ballroom on the afternoon of Miss Ley Curtiz, a charming miss who wears the Spanish mantilla with exquisite grace, and appears on private stages in artistic efforts of her own creation. She sails for Spain soon to acquire more of that land's color for her appearances. (Photo by Boris.)

Monday, will interest devotees of the game that calls for so much skill and never loses its charm for the initiate. Patrons are lending prestige as Mrs. Elliot Wadsworth, Mrs. William B. Butler, Mrs. John C. Bull, Mrs. Frederic W. Cook, Mrs. Walter B. Leach, Mrs. Julia Andrews, Mrs. Leverett B. Belmont, Mrs. Isaac Patch, Mrs. Samuel Barron, Mrs. Gaspar C. Bacon, Mrs. George W. Knowlton, Jr., and Miss Sybil K. Holmes, Mrs. William H. Coudridge is the efficient and experienced directing hand.

A YOUTHFUL ASPIRANT FOR a place in the arid sun is Cady Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Channing Wells, for whom yesterday Mr. Arnold Scott opened her Beacon at home, at No. 406, and for whom there was much more than the patter of applause usually accorded fledglings winging toward fame. Mr. Wells is youngest of the Channing World family of several sons and a sub-graduate daughter, and those asked to listen to him were distinctly appreciative. As a student of the piano under the Honorable Grahame Tuttle, Mr. Wells should realize his dearest ambitions.

AFTER STARTING A PET philanthropic movement on its next season's dollar hunting way, Mrs. John W. Myers of Beacon, is departing for Washington, to be in the Federal City just as nature kindly to spot near the Mason and Dixon line that is Boston, begins to put a soft bright spring tint on the trees and grass plots. Mrs. Myers plans a stay of a week or more, and on the homeward way may stop for a short interval at Atlantic City. Other trav-

Stresses Need of Cooperation

"KNOWING that girls actually are sold into white slavery what mother does not tremble when she reads of missing girls?" asked Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre, addressing the New England Women's Press Association at Hotel Victoria.

"How can we protect our homes without international co-operation? At a certain European spot a very dapper young man tried to buy tickets for four girls whom he designated to an American travel agent as relatives. A woman friend of ours witnessed the objections thrown in his way by the agent and the final flat refusal to sell the tickets. After the man had left in a huff the woman asked why he had been treated so badly. She was told that the agent entertained strong suspicions that the girls were being taken to Brazil to be sold. Investigation proved this to be the fact. There you have a concrete example of four girls rescued by international co-operation. The vice reports of the League of Nations would convince any woman that home protection problems are common to all nations."

"Take opium as another example of our helplessness trying to fight it alone. As a nation we hate opium. But has that driven it from our country? No, indeed! It is so easy to carry thousands of dollars worth of this drug over our borders, concealed in clothing."

LEPERS WORK ON FOOD "How can we ever hope to stamp out opium except through international co-operation against its manufacture in every country in the world? Through the work of the opium commission in the League of Nations more has been accomplished toward a solution of the opium problem in the last 10 years than had previously been done in centuries."

Ten thousand unregulated looting in factories and homes in Spain and handling foods to other countries has shown the necessity of international co-operation for mutual health protection. Mrs. Sayre added, "Do we working together in all countries give new hope of conquering humanity's greatest scourges, cancer and influenza."

NEED TO WORK TOGETHER "Forget the label 'League of Nations' and remember that every thing studied in this great international conference has its origin in your home, my home and homes all over the world," she concluded. "The whole plan is modeled after American women's clubs, studying together for the common good. It is only through talking over our common international problems

Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre

Elsie Powers Corwin at Braintree Hall, 2:30 p. m. Miss Ida U. Hartburn in charge with Miss Gertrude Leavitt as hostess for the team.

WOMEN'S CHARITY CLUB Benefit bridge party for the Massachusetts Women's Hospital at Women's Republican Clubhouse, 2 p. m. in charge of Mrs. Benjamin H. Currier and Mrs. Elizabeth V. McGraw. Mrs. Edward H. Winsor will sell candy.

LOTHERO CLUB (Bevery) Annual meeting at Unitarian Parish House at 5:30 p. m. Tea will be served by the hospitality committee.

Nancy Brewster
Advertisement

SPENT $1500 TRYING TO GET WELL

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Relief

This startling letter from an ex-service man will interest everyone who suffers from constipation. "I was discharged after the World War with heart trouble and bad stomach. I had lived about $100. Since then I've spent that sum and a lot more on doctoring and operations and medicines. I always was bothered with constipation."

"I told my wife to get some kind of light breakfast food and I would try it. She sent home with a small package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I ate it for breakfast, lunch and dinner, about a common ten-dollar full with milk at each meal. I have been doing this for about a month. I have stopped taking those medicines. I am getting well. I have a good appetite. And now I am getting fat and believe I am getting well."

George C. O'Connell, Barker, N. Y.

WOODBOURNE WOMEN'S CLUB Mrs. Elsie K. Chamberlain, chairman of the State Federation, will speak on "Art in Everyday Life" at 2:30 p. m., Upland Memorial Church. Tea served by Mrs. John W. Park and Mrs. Horace Guild.

KOSMOS CLUB (Walden) Illustrated lecture, "The League of Nations at Work," by Densy Myers at Old Fellows Hall, 2:30 p. m. Musical program. Miss Louise Altman, violinist, accompanied by Alicia Whitman.

CANTABRIGIA CLUB Illustrated lecture, "Luther Burbank: His Life and Work," by

WHOOPIING COUGH
No "cure"—but helps to reduce paroxysms of coughing.
VICKS
VapoRub
One 21 Mints—Great Relief

ADJUSTING FIRE LOSSES:
A Fine Record of Fair Dealing

The last licking flame has been quenched. The firemen have returned to their stations. Ashes—smoke—stains—water-soaked contents—then the adjuster.

All day long and every day the adjuster meets people who have sustained losses against which they were insured. Whether greeted cordially or gruffly, the adjuster must handle his problem with tact and fairness. The reputation of his company goes with him into every case.

During 1927 nearly a million reports of losses were filed with the Stock Fire Insurance companies. Ninety-nine and nine tenths percent of the claims arising from these loss reports were adjusted without resort to legal action; a splendid tribute to the fairness of the contracting parties—the public and the fire insurance companies.

It is the constant effort of the Stock Fire Insurance companies to employ only honest and competent adjusters, to the end that legitimate claims may be settled fairly in conformity with the rights of the interested parties.

The adjuster is appraised by his ability to arrive at the proper amount of loss and to avoid claims originating from that enemy to society—the arsonist.

The public confidence in Stock Fire Insurance is a large measure due to the fair dealing of its adjusters.

THE NATIONAL BOARD OF FIRE UNDERWRITERS
65 John Street A NATIONAL ORGANIZATION OF STOCK FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES New York
Established in 1865

A Great New Surprise Feature!
$12,000 PRIZE PUZZLE BOOK
Fun for All Profit for Winners

Here it is . . . something unusual . . . something new . . . something different. Entertainment de luxe. A feature found in no other Boston newspaper . . . something that holds interest for each member of the family . . . a feature that is fascinating . . . intriguing . . . delightful!

It's the amusing game of Movie Title scenes . . . the odd looking Letter Pictures and the educational Historical Rebuses. Truly this is a rare treat . . . and one that holds interest for young and old.

If you like contests you can try for the cash prizes . . . but whether you do or not, you'll find the Prize Puzzle Book chockful of amusement and diversion.

BEGINNING NEXT SUNDAY, APRIL 7th and for twelve consecutive weeks thereafter, the $12,000 Prize Puzzle Book will come as a big new feature in the BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER
More Than 500,000 Circulation—Largest in New England

REAL RACHES
NEVER wait to see if a headache will "wear off." Why suffer when there's Bayer Aspirin? The millions of men and women who use it in increasing quantities every year prove that it does relieve such pain. The medical profession pronounces it without a shadow of doubt, so use it as often as it can spare you any pain. Bayer Aspirin promptly relieves headaches, colds, neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago, etc. Women find these tablets great comfort in cases of regular, systemic suffering. Familiarize yourself with the proven directions in every package.

BAYER ASPIRIN
Aspirin is the trade name for Acetyl Salicylic Acid of Bayerwerk, Germany

Open Every Evening Till 9 O'clock

GREAT SALE

PIANOS RADIOS

THURS., FRI., SAT.
Hundreds of New and Used Uprights, Players, Small Grand Pianos and Radios

Prices Slashed To Pieces

Beautiful New Uprights, Grands and Player Pianos in Latest Creations
Used Uprights, Grands and Players, $65, $75, $85, $125, $150, Up
Old instruments taken in exchange—full value allowed. Free delivery. Every price guaranteed as reasonable or money refunded.

High-Grade, Very Well-Known Make
New All-Electric Radio Set $66
Greatest Bargain Ever Offered in Boston

Extreme leniency in case of sickness or unemployment.

SAVE $100 At 100 Summer St.

At Low as $5 DOWN $1.00 A WEEK

Remember, a Good Used Piano Is Better Than a Cheap New One

J. P. COLLINS
100 Summer Street
Coe, Desnoes and Co., Inc.
Open Every Evening Till 9

SAY VOLSTEAD ACT HAS BEEN REPEALED

Sloux City, Ia., April 4 (AP)—A plea that the Volstead act has been automatically repealed by subsequent legislation and that in consequence there is no national prohibition enforcement law has been made to the United States circuit court of appeals by counsel for Marie Bevington, Sloux City hotel proprietor.

A law firm bases its appeal on the contention that Congress, by passage of the Willis-Campbell act in 1921, automatically repealed the Volstead act. It argues that the Willis-Campbell act re-nacted all internal revenue laws applicable to intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes which had been repealed by the Volstead law.

Since the Supreme Court has held that the national prohibition law automatically repealed this portion of the internal revenue law, its re-enactment would in turn "repeal" the Volstead act, it is claimed.

Dies From Auto Injuries

Gardner, April 4 (AP)—Charles E. Howe, 77, died at a hospital today of injuries received last night when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Elmer W. Crouch.

VICTORY KNITTING MILLS

an Exceptional Value!

Men's Coat Sweater that sells for much more elsewhere and that we always sell for $3.98. Now reduced to $2.98.

$2.98

For this Week Only

Suitable for all sportswear and around the home, well made and good looking. Colors are Navy and all Hatters. Sizes 36 to 46.

$2.98

For this Week Only

A good all round Shakerknit Wool Sweater. Very popular amongst men and boys for Sports wear. Colors Black and Navy. Sizes 36-46.

Mail Orders 10c Extra

VICTORY KNITTING MILLS

Shop at the Nearest Store

570 Washington St.

Opposite Avery Street—

6 Tremont St. Near South Station

Boston, Mass.

NATLON—35 Pleasant St. SPRINGFIELD—1899 State St. PROVIDENCE—284 Water St. PORTLAND—471 Congress St.

Brands 'Sun Back' Gowns as Immodest in School

Jacksonville, Fla., April 4 (AP)

"Sun Back" dresses may be the latest fad but they will not be worn at Robert E. Lee high school if Mrs. Marguerite Culp, dean of girls, has her way.

Six girls who appeared in classes wearing the frocks with abbreviated backs, felt the dean's wrath when she decided that the dresses "actually reached the point of immodesty."

Mrs. Culp ordered the girls home to put on "decent" clothes. "Such clothes are immodest," she said, "and demoralize the class."

Five of them complied with her order but the sixth could not see why she should be forced to change.

"My mamma approves and the dresses are supposed to be healthy," she said. "Anyway, I don't think it's any of the teacher's business what I wear."

Heads of other Jacksonville high schools had varying opinions about the dresses while the superintendent of public instruction, who said he had not seen a sun back dress, said they are O. K. with me if mothers approve."

Mrs. Culp, however, is wrought up about it. If any more of the girls appear in her classes with their backs exposed to "the point of immodesty" she is going to call a "show down" on the matter.

Melrose Elks to Dance Tomorrow

Melrose lodge of Elks holds its annual ball and entertainment in Memorial Hall, Melrose, tomorrow night with Miss Elizabeth Raynes in charge of the entertainment features. Charles Carbone in charge of the dance and Deputy Sheriff Frederick T. Peabody giving the 11 o'clock toast.

Bar Loud Speakers in Front of Stores

Rockville Center, N. Y., April 4 (INS)—The Rockville Center village board established a precedent in the metropolitan area today when it passed an ordinance prohibiting the use of radio loud speakers in front of stores and business houses, except on special occasions.

DRY LEADER IS OUT OF JAIL

Putnamville, Ind., April 4 (AP)—

E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, was released from the state penal farm today after serving 10 days of a 60-day sentence for contempt of the Indiana Supreme court. Seven days were stricken off the sentence for good behavior.

The prohibition leader termed his incarceration "an interesting experience" and said most of the bootleggers he met in the penal institution had admitted they had done wrong and intended to "go straight."

The Supreme court held Shumaker in contempt when he caused to be published articles which attributed prejudice to certain members of the court.

Auxiliary of A. O. H. to Meet in Dedham

The Auxiliary of the Dedham A. O. H. will meet tonight in Gull Hall. A program will be presented by Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Peasey and Miss Katherine Brown, the committee in charge.

Bishop Hickey Off Tomorrow for Rome

Providence, April 4 (AP)—The Rt. Rev. William A. Hickey, bishop of Providence, will depart tomorrow for Rome, where he will visit the Holy See. Bishop Hickey recently was victorious in a dispute lasting for several months, during which he was cited into court by several French-Canadian parishioners who objected to his excommunication of several of them.

Sixty-two of the parishioners, led by Eugene Daigault, were excommunicated. Later they were accepted back into the church.

Got a good piece of real estate, say it isn't? Pay for it, keep it, and later it will be yours. See the second volume of the Classified Ads.

WEAKNESS?

A feeling of weakness is a sign that your entire system needs this tonic.

HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT
For Health and Strength

Legion Post Will Give Play Tonight

At the High School of Practical Arts, Roxbury, tonight, the American Legion, Oliver Ames Jr. Post, will present "Who Won the War," a military play in three acts. The cast is composed of members of the Kenilworth Players and the whole production is under the direction of Pamela Carew.

Big White Ships to NEW YORK

Through Cape Cod Canal Overnight Service—Now Daily, Including Sunday

The luxurious new steamers "BOSTON" and "NEW YORK" are now in service on this scenic, sheltered route, sailing daily, including Sunday at 5 P. M. from India Wharf, Boston. Apply to Wharf Office, phone Hancock 1700, or 12 Milk St., phone Liberty 5386.

EASTERN steamship lines

U. of M. Senior Named
Augusta, Me., April 4 (AP)—Robert Flint Chandler of New Gloucester, a senior at the University of Maine, today was appointed state horticulturist to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George A. Yeaton.

To Use Earhart Plane in Hop
New York, April 4 (INS)—Lieut. Claudio Mejia, Argentine pilot, will attempt a flight from Buenos Aires to Sevilla, Spain, in the tri-motored Fokker monoplane Friendship, in which Amelia Earhart made her transatlantic flight.

Jordan Marsh Company GREAT BASEMENT STORE

Watch out for moths! protect your clothes with

Big Red Moth-proof Bags 2 for 59c

Side opening with special sliding clamps that close the bag easily, quickly and tightly

Made of toughest red kraft paper, thoroughly cedarized.

58 inches long, big enough to hold garments of any size.

Hangs from steel wire hook.

Separate hanger with each bag.

Proof against moth, dust, and moisture.

from famous New England mill
400 pairs fine
Plaid Blankets

3.95 pair

Handsome block plaid design, with wide sateen binding to match. Colors in blue, rose, gold, orchid, green and tan. Size 66x80. All first quality.

300 Novelty
Printed Sateen
(cotton)

Pillows
a low price for this attractive pillow
78c

Just what you need for the summer porch, camp and canoe. Splendid assortment of striking patterns and vivid color effects. A saving on every pillow.

Women's New Spring
Novelty Cuff
Fabric Gloves

1.00 pair

Five popular styles. Also slip-on gloves in saddle sewn and plain styles. Excellent quality fabric, lightweight, mostly with kip seams. Sudan, nut, cedar, lawn, mode and grey shades. Sizes 5 1/2 to 8 in the lot.

Other fabric gloves 50c, 60c, 70c and 1.15

WHEN A MAN COMES HOME FROM COLLEGE

At the train—he's dressed in perfect taste

His family knows that he's always correctly dressed

His old friends expect the last word in style from him

In the evening you find him in the newest dinner clothes

THESE ARE THE CORRECT UNIVERSITY STYLES BY HART SCHAFFNER & MARX

The three button suit rolled to the second button is the favorite. The two button notched lapel coat is a close second. Both fit the waist and hips a fraction more snugly

Patterns are subdued, neat stripes diagonals and black and whites; in worsteds, tweeds and chevrons

Grenadier and Dickens blues, Malacca tan and Scots Greys are the colors

Topcoats are not so long. They have three buttons and hang straight from the shoulders

Hats have narrow brims snapped down in front and are either raw or welt edged

Neckwear is in solid colored satins and multi-stripes

Shirts are in soft pastel shades and white

The CONTINENTAL

TWO STORES

Boylston at Washington and 407 Washington St., opp. Filene's

BOTH STORES OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

Copyright 1929 Hart Schaffner & Marx

EVENING

[illegible]

Advice All Free

Before you buy or sell stocks or bonds you should secure unbiased expert advice. Send investment inquiries with stamp to Frank H. Meloon, Financial Editor, Boston Evening American, 8 Winthrop sq., Boston, Mass. Replies can be made by mail only.

$70 DIVIDEND IS DECLARED

The board has directed that the balance of the company's accounts receivable of $254,860, be used for payment of the company's obligations for purchase of considerable new machinery, particularly a new manufacturing plant, and other incidents in connection with sale of the property, and that the amount of cash remaining be used to transfer to the new company.

State Street Notes

WALDORF sales for first 1972 quarter increased 7.2 percent over a year ago.

WATKINSON spurted over $2.50 share

CONSOLIDATED GAS of New York was well bought.

NATIONAL awarded $100,000 note due Nov. 27 to Atlantic Corporation at 5.82 per cent. Other bidders were First National Bank of Boston 5.915 per cent and O

DOME Mines, Ltd., March produ

tion was valued at $381,768 against $316,143 in February and $357,788 in January and $310,200 in March, 1928.

HERSHEY Chocolate Co. earns $1 per share on common stock in January; estimates place earnings for this year at between $1 and $9 per share.

SCHENECTADY officials of General Electric Co. said five-day week after next would decrease for New York plants, but the no decision had been reached

FAIL RIVER Gas Works Co. declared quarterly dividend of 1 cent a share, payable May 1.

AMERICAN Radiator & Standard Sanitary offers stock at $25 share in ratio of 1 for 10.

HOLDERS of International Paper & Power Co. Class "A," "B" and "C" common stocks have right to subscribe to Class "A" stock of International Hydro-Electric & Paper Co.

each 10 shares held at $43.

WOBUEN will receive bids until April 9 for $100,000 loan dated April 10 and due December 5.

CHRYSLER has acted so badly that a lot of traders are buying it on the theory it is too good to be true.

THOSE who bought oils feel that that production will decline and the improvement in the oil situation.

THOSE who sold Royal Baking

BROKERS' loans are estimated to show a reduction of between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 this week.

Wall Street Gossip

GRIGBY-GUNOW Co. March sales were $6,111,910, a new high for any month. Total for

As of March 31, 2002, the Company's cash and cash equivalents were $43.6 million.

EDISON Edison Co. March power output was 44,648,687 kwh., an increase of 16 per cent over 38,515,423 a year ago, and comparing with 42,350,125 in February.

PENNSYLVANIA System loadings in week ended March 30 were 157,957, against 156,810 in preceding week and 148,640 in the 1928 week. From January 1 to March 30 loadings were 1,849,635 against 1,833,951 in the 1928 period.

C. C. RENSHAW has been elected a director of Reynolds Spring.

R. I. Public Service
Common Dividend $

declared regular quarterly dividends of 50 cents per share on pro-

Chain Store Sales Jump Over 19 P. C. During March systems have shown a combined increase of 19.4 per cent. In March sales over March, 1928 and a gain of 12.3 per cent in sales for the first three months of the year compared with the corresponding 1928 period.

March sales totaled $47,456,084 against $38,734,503 in the same month last year.

AMERICAN New York Curb MARKET

[illegible]

AS CUPS GO IT WOULD BE MORE USEFUL IN CANADA!!

Sager Electrical Supply Co.
Joseph E. Sager, Pres.
157 Franklin St., Boston

Clothes pressed while you take your shower
SHOE SHINE PARLOR
HATS CLEANED

157 Franklin St. Boston

Joseph E. Sager, Pres.
157 Franklin St., Boston

NO woman can afford to miss these magazine pages. Here you will find household information of great value, a wonderful article by an eminent physician, important advice on matters of etiquette by a woman who knows and fashion hints fresh from Paris.

Martha Lee's Advice on the Daily Menus

WITH the advent of a greater variety of fresh vegetables on the market, it becomes easier to connect salads which will be appetizing and simple to prepare. Fresh vegetables are excellent combined with canned vegetables, and, since the latter are usually expensive during the early season, the use of canned vegetables averages down the cost.

Martha Lee

Another method of making salads more delicious is to combine a fresh vegetable with a canned fruit such as pineapple, either crushed or sliced. The clean, crisp texture of the pineapple and the heavier, but not less delicious, flavor of the vegetable will combine to make a salad which is rather novel and delicious.

The use of contrasting colors must not be forgotten, either. For instance, if you use fresh watercress, green peas with it. Another colorful combination is golden carrots and pineapple and with Ave. Fashion.

thrown on a seat of green lettuce. Jellied cucumber and pineapple is another effective combination of color combinations and taste.

Here are some recipes which show how to carry out some of these color combinations and taste.

JELLIED ASPARAGUS AND CUCUMBER

Soften 1 lb. gelatin in 4 c. cold water. Add enough water to the juice from a can of asparagus tips to make 1 cup. Add 1 bay leaf, 1 sprig celery tops and 1/2 tsp. salt and boil 3 minutes. Strain over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add 1 1/2 finely chopped green peppers and 1 boiled clove carrot. Arrange asparagus, tip and down around the edge of a fluted mold. Pour gelatin mixture in center and chill. Serve unmolded on lettuce, garnished with mayonnaise.

CALIFLOWER AND PEA SALAD

Pick out a small, perfect head of cauliflower, separate the florets and slice with a sharp knife. Soak 3 c. of the raw cauliflower slices, 1 c. canned peas and contents of 1 can asparagus tips in French dressing separately, for at least 2 hours. Then toss the peas and cauliflower with light dressing. Sprinkle on lettuce and garnish with asparagus tips, serve with mayonnaise dressing.

SUNSET SALAD

Soak 3 sheets, gelatin in 2 cups cold water, then dissolve in 1 c. boiling water. Add 1/2 cup sugar and 3 cups lemon juice and 1/2 tsp. salt and boil. Add the syrup from half a No. 3 can of crushed pineapple, and when the gelatin begins to set, add 1/2 of half the can of crushed pineapple and 1 c. of grated raw carrots. Mold in a small loaf and set in slices, or mold in fancy shapes, serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

JELLIED CUCUMBER AND PINEAPPLE SALAD

Soak 3 sheets, gelatin in 1/2 c. cold water for 5 minutes, then dissolve in 1 c. boiling water. Add 1 1/2 c. sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 c. vinegar and juice of 1/2 lemon. When cold and beginning to stiffen, add 1 c. of crushed cucumber and 1 c. of crushed pineapple and pour into a shallow, wet pan. When ready to serve, cut in cubes and serve on lettuce. Garnish with pecans (whole) and cream mayonnaise.

Faithfully yours,
MARTHA LEE

Always Be Active

By J. E. Bish, M.D., Ph.D.

How often we hear of Mr. So-and-So who led an active business career until he was sixty, let us say, and then when he retired and stopped work he went all at pieces and died a few years after. The conclusion naturally drawn, of course, is that it is dangerous for a man stop work.

Undoubtedly many men believe that and probably that is why so many stick to their desks day in and day out.

It is not necessary, however, to work at the same thing all one's life in order to remain healthy and vigorous.

But it is essential that the body and mind be kept active at something else if disastrous consequences are not to be inevitable. There is no reason why anybody should stop work at sixty if he wants to and can afford it provided he interests himself in some other kind of work or activity.

Degeneration of tissue, physical or mental, does not set in because of a shifting of interest.

It is a waste of time when interest stops and activity ceases.

Copyright, 1925, King Features Synd., Inc.

McClure Page

'The Return of Old King Brady' and His Adventures

Edited by Mark W. Hersey.

CHAPTER 4

Harry boards the Aldebaran as a fisherman, and is hired as an expert swimmer. The Aldebaran is disabled. The Prince and Mrs. Drake board the yacht.

HARRY took a roundabout way to the yacht, so he had been observed by anyone on the Aldebaran they would have been missed. As he drew near the captain, a man with a heavy red beard, came to the rail and had a long look at him.

"Want to buy any fish?" called the detective. "I've got some beauts."

The captain called to him that he would throw him a line so he could make fast and come on board.

Harry was suspicious, but determined to take a chance, and so in a few minutes he was standing on deck with his bucket of fish. The captain bought the fish. Then, turning to Harry, he said, "Boy, you come with me."

Young King Brady followed the captain into one of the deck staterooms. The captain questioned Harry's answers were clear and direct. The captain, who spoke with confidence and impressed the captain with his own knowledge.

"Do you want to hire out your boat?" the captain asked him. "And yourself along with the lot?"

"I might," Young King Brady replied for such success as that, "it depends upon the pay. The pay will depend on the things," replied the captain. "Are you experienced in this sort of thing?"

"So, I haven't any folk. That's one point in your favor. Can you swim?"

"Yes."

"Could you hold up a big, heavy man in the water who can't swim, if you have another fellow to help?"

"I have no doubt I could manage that. Then, if you will go along with me, I will make a clean $500, that is, if you ask no questions."

Harry's mind had been made up from the moment the captain tackled him. The chance to work on the inside with these people had given him better of it.

Young King Brady had decided to cast his fortunes with these mysterious folk on the Aldebaran.

The captain presented Harry with a bathing suit and ordered him to put on and show him if he could swim. When he came on deck the captain and the boat, Mr. Whitelash, looking at him over the rail, said to the young man, "Old King Brady has described. 'This is the Prince, all right,' thought Young King Brady.

"Over with you!" cried Capt. Belden. Harry dived from the rail. "It's up to you now, boy," the captain said when Harry scrambled up on deck again. "If you do as we say and stick to me, there may be a good bit more than this in it for you—see?" And he handed him $50.

"You is to take over there. We are going to start in a little while," Harry sought Jake and stood talking to him. Meanwhile, he held his gun at right angles for a while. The signal agreed upon to show Old King Brady that the Prince was aboard the Aldebaran.

Old King Brady turned in and was soon asleep. He was roused by the captain. "The Aldebaran has stopped and is signaling us. I think something has happened. What shall I do?"

"Answer their signals, of course. The yacht belongs to a Mr. Williams, who is in Europe, and you are sailing her on your own account. I am your old debt, inform uncle—"

"?" replied the old detective. He proceeded to dress leisurely. He put on a black hat in place of the white one and a pair of old green spectacles and then went on deck. Ahead of them lay the yacht.

"They are sending a boat to us," said Capt. Rowland, coming up. They signalled they had a break-down.

"Everything seems to be working our way. I shall slip into your stateroom. Talk near the window where I can hear. Remember that. If Harry comes aboard tap once on the blind."

And King Brady retired to the deck stateroom.

He had not long to wait before the tap came on his shutter. Soon there was confusion on deck. The deep voice of Capt. Belden asked: "What's in it?"

"Tacht Staghound, of New York. The owner is not aboard, can I do anything to help you?"

"I want to say a word in private. We have broken down and are in a peck of trouble. I will say to you right now that the three Naval men and will pay you well if you will help him out."

"Well, to tell you the truth, this trip is on my own account. I have an old uncle on board who has tons of rocks and can't last long. He wanted to have a run on the yacht and—"

"So you brought him up here. Can I speak to you privately?" They came right under the window.

"It's like this," Capt. Belden continued. "At a certain point was a passenger and we want to be ready to receive him and carry him down the bay to a hiding place. All we want is for you to be the boat and the lady come to the boat and we can do anything that goes on. When we see our messenger the quicker you make the run the better. That's all I want. The cash!"

"I'll make that a cool thousand. Is that all right?" Capt. Rowland wanted to think it over, so he told Capt. Belden to wait forward and look the yacht over while he thought about the offer.

Capt. Belden backed up against the blind. "Do I take the offer, Mr. Brady?" he whispered.

"Yes."

"What do you think it means?"

"An escape from Sing Sing," the old detective replied in a voice scarcely audible. "Accept at once."

Capt. Rowland walked away and Old King Brady soon heard the boat pull away from the yacht.

The captain then came into the stateroom. "This is queer business, Mr. Brady," he remarked.

"But not surprising to me, my friend. I have now a clue to the whole case and see through it all."

"Harry!" he breathed.

In a few minutes they started up river again.

The old detective heard someone come up against the partition and give a low tap on the blind.

"I'm here, governor. The woman has come aboard with the Wall Street Prince. I don't know what their game is, but it involves swimming."

"Everything seems to be working our way. I shall slip into your stateroom. Talk near the window where I can hear. Remember that. If Harry comes aboard tap once on the blind."

And King Brady retired to the deck stateroom.

He had not long to wait before the tap came on his shutter. Soon there was confusion on deck. The deep voice of Capt. Belden asked: "What's in it?"

"Tacht Staghound, of New York. The owner is not aboard, can I do anything to help you?"

"I want to say a word in private. We have broken down and are in a peck of trouble. I will say to you right now that the three Naval men and will pay you well if you will help him out."

"Well, to tell you the truth, this trip is on my own account. I have an old uncle on board who has tons of rocks and can't last long. He wanted to have a run on the yacht and—"

"So you brought him up here. Can I speak to you privately?" They came right under the window.

"It's like this," Capt. Belden continued. "At a certain point was a passenger and we want to be ready to receive him and carry him down the bay to a hiding place. All we want is for you to be the boat and the lady come to the boat and we can do anything that goes on. When we see our messenger the quicker you make the run the better. That's all I want. The cash!"

"I'll make that a cool thousand. Is that all right?" Capt. Rowland wanted to think it over, so he told Capt. Belden to wait forward and look the yacht over while he thought about the offer.

Capt. Belden backed up against the blind. "Do I take the offer, Mr. Brady?" he whispered.

"Yes."

"What do you think it means?"

"An escape from Sing Sing," the old detective replied in a voice scarcely audible. "Accept at once."

Capt. Rowland walked away and Old King Brady soon heard the boat pull away from the yacht.

The captain then came into the stateroom. "This is queer business, Mr. Brady," he remarked.

"But not surprising to me, my friend. I have now a clue to the whole case and see through it all."

"Harry!" he breathed.

In a few minutes they started up river again.

The old detective heard someone come up against the partition and give a low tap on the blind.

"I'm here, governor. The woman has come aboard with the Wall Street Prince. I don't know what their game is, but it involves swimming."

"What do you think it means?"

"An escape from Sing Sing," the old detective replied in a voice scarcely audible. "Accept at once."

Capt. Rowland walked away and Old King Brady soon heard the boat pull away from the yacht.

The captain then came into the stateroom. "This is queer business, Mr. Brady," he remarked.

"But not surprising to me, my friend. I have now a clue to the whole case and see through it all."

"Harry!" he breathed.

In a few minutes they started up river again.

The old detective heard someone come up against the partition and give a low tap on the blind.

"I'm here, governor. The woman has come aboard with the Wall Street Prince. I don't know what their game is, but it involves swimming."

"Everything seems to be working our way. I shall slip into your stateroom. Talk near the window where I can hear. Remember that. If Harry comes aboard tap once on the blind."

And King Brady retired to the deck stateroom.

He had not long to wait before the tap came on his shutter. Soon there was confusion on deck. The deep voice of Capt. Belden asked: "What's in it?"

"Tacht Staghound, of New York. The owner is not aboard, can I do anything to help you?"

"I want to say a word in private. We have broken down and are in a peck of trouble. I will say to you right now that the three Naval men and will pay you well if you will help him out."

"Well, to tell you the truth, this trip is on my own account. I have an old uncle on board who has tons of rocks and can't last long. He wanted to have a run on the yacht and—"

"So you brought him up here. Can I speak to you privately?" They came right under the window.

"It's like this," Capt. Belden continued. "At a certain point was a passenger and we want to be ready to receive him and carry him down the bay to a hiding place. All we want is for you to be the boat and the lady come to the boat and we can do anything that goes on. When we see our messenger the quicker you make the run the better. That's all I want. The cash!"

"I'll make that a cool thousand. Is that all right?" Capt. Rowland wanted to think it over, so he told Capt. Belden to wait forward and look the yacht over while he thought about the offer.

Capt. Belden backed up against the blind. "Do I take the offer, Mr. Brady?" he whispered.

"Yes."

"What do you think it means?"

"An escape from Sing Sing," the old detective replied in a voice scarcely audible. "Accept at once."

Capt. Rowland walked away and Old King Brady soon heard the boat pull away from the yacht.

The captain then came into the stateroom. "This is queer business, Mr. Brady," he remarked.

"But not surprising to me, my friend. I have now a clue to the whole case and see through it all."

"Harry!" he breathed.

In a few minutes they started up river again.

The old detective heard someone come up against the partition and give a low tap on the blind.

"I'm here, governor. The woman has come aboard with the Wall Street Prince. I don't know what their game is, but it involves swimming."

"Everything seems to be working our way. I shall slip into your stateroom. Talk near the window where I can hear. Remember that. If Harry comes aboard tap once on the blind."

And King Brady retired to the deck stateroom.

He had not long to wait before the tap came on his shutter. Soon there was confusion on deck. The deep voice of Capt. Belden asked: "What's in it?"

"What do you think it means?"

"An escape from Sing Sing," the old detective replied in a voice scarcely audible. "Accept at once."

Capt. Rowland walked away and Old King Brady soon heard the boat pull away from the yacht.

The captain then came into the stateroom. "This is queer business, Mr. Brady," he remarked.

"But not surprising to me, my friend. I have now a clue to the whole case and see through it all."

"Harry!" he breathed.

In a few minutes they started up river again.

The old detective heard someone come up against the partition and give a low tap on the blind.

"I'm here, governor. The woman has come aboard with the Wall Street Prince. I don't know what their game is, but it involves swimming."

"Everything seems to be working our way. I shall slip into your stateroom. Talk near the window where I can hear. Remember that. If Harry comes aboard tap once on the blind."

And King Brady retired to the deck stateroom.

He had not long to wait before the tap came on his shutter. Soon there was confusion on deck. The deep voice of Capt. Belden asked: "What's in it?"

"Tacht Staghound, of New York. The owner is not aboard, can I do anything to help you?"

"I want to say a word in private. We have broken down and are in a peck of trouble. I will say to you right now that the three Naval men and will pay you well if you will help him out."

"Well, to tell you the truth, this trip is on my own account. I have an old uncle on board who has tons of rocks and can't last long. He wanted to have a run on the yacht and—"

"So you brought him up here. Can I speak to you privately?" They came right under the window.

"It's like this," Capt. Belden continued. "At a certain point was a passenger and we want to be ready to receive him and carry him down the bay to a hiding place. All we want is for you to be the boat and the lady come to the boat and we can do anything that goes on. When we see our messenger the quicker you make the run the better. That's all I want. The cash!"

"I'll make that a cool thousand. Is that all right?" Capt. Rowland wanted to think it over, so he told Capt. Belden to wait forward and look the yacht over while he thought about the offer.

Capt. Belden backed up against the blind. "Do I take the offer, Mr. Brady?" he whispered.

"Yes."

"What do you think it means?"

"An escape from Sing Sing," the old detective replied in a voice scarcely audible. "Accept at once."

Capt. Rowland walked away and Old King Brady soon heard the boat pull away from the yacht.

The captain then came into the stateroom. "This is queer business, Mr. Brady," he remarked.

"But not surprising to me, my friend. I have now a clue to the whole case and see through it all."

"Harry!" he breathed.

In a few minutes they started up river again.

The old detective heard someone come up against the partition and give a low tap on the blind.

"I'm here, governor. The woman has come aboard with the Wall Street Prince. I don't know what their game is, but it involves swimming."

"Everything seems to be working our way. I shall slip into your stateroom. Talk near the window where I can hear. Remember that. If Harry comes aboard tap once on the blind."

And King Brady retired to the deck stateroom.

He had not long to wait before the tap came on his shutter. Soon there was confusion on deck. The deep voice of Capt. Belden asked: "What's in it?"

"What do you think it means?"

"An escape from Sing Sing," the old detective replied in a voice scarcely audible. "Accept at once."

Capt. Rowland walked away and Old King Brady soon heard the boat pull away from the yacht.

The captain then came into the stateroom. "This is queer business, Mr. Brady," he remarked.

"But not surprising to me, my friend. I have now a clue to the whole case and see through it all."

"Harry!" he breathed.

In a few minutes they started up river again.

The old detective heard someone come up against the partition and give a low tap on the blind.

"I'm here, governor. The woman has come aboard with the Wall Street Prince. I don't know what their game is, but it involves swimming."

"Everything seems to be working our way. I shall slip into your stateroom. Talk near the window where I can hear. Remember that. If Harry comes aboard tap once on the blind."

And King Brady retired to the deck stateroom.

He had not long to wait before the tap came on his shutter. Soon there was confusion on deck. The deep voice of Capt. Belden asked: "What's in it?"

"Tacht Staghound, of New York. The owner is not aboard, can I do anything to help you?"

"I want to say a word in private. We have broken down and are in a peck of trouble. I will say to you right now that the three Naval men and will pay you well if you will help him out."

"Well, to tell you the truth, this trip is on my own account. I have an old uncle on board who has tons of rocks and can't last long. He wanted to have a run on the yacht and—"

"So you brought him up here. Can I speak to you privately?" They came right under the window.

"It's like this," Capt. Belden continued. "At a certain point was a passenger and we want to be ready to receive him and carry him down the bay to a hiding place. All we want is for you to be the boat and the lady come to the boat and we can do anything that goes on. When we see our messenger the quicker you make the run the better. That's all I want. The cash!"

"I'll make that a cool thousand. Is that all right?" Capt. Rowland wanted to think it over, so he told Capt. Belden to wait forward and look the yacht over while he thought about the offer.

Capt. Belden backed up against the blind. "Do I take the offer, Mr. Brady?" he whispered.

"Yes."

"What do you think it means?"

"An escape from Sing Sing," the old detective replied in a voice scarcely audible. "Accept at once."

Capt. Rowland walked away and Old King Brady soon heard the boat pull away from the yacht.

The captain then came into the stateroom. "This is queer business, Mr. Brady," he remarked.

"But not surprising to me, my friend. I have now a clue to the whole case and see through it all."

"Harry!" he breathed.

In a few minutes they started up river again.

The old detective heard someone come up against the partition and give a low tap on the blind.

"I'm here, governor. The woman has come aboard with the Wall Street Prince. I don't know what their game is, but it involves swimming."

"Everything seems to be working our way. I shall slip into your stateroom. Talk near the window where I can hear. Remember that. If Harry comes aboard tap once on the blind."

And King Brady retired to the deck stateroom.

He had not long to wait before the tap came on his shutter. Soon there was confusion on deck. The deep voice of Capt. Belden asked: "What's in it?"

Dr. Bish's Daily Health Hint

ADULTS but especially children, may develop ear trouble from a cold. In such cases the germs pass from the nose through the Eustachian tubes into the ear. Pain in the ear or behind the ear should always be investigated further.

Brady resumed his lonely watch. "Matters surely have taken a queer turn."

Copyright protected. Reproduction in whole or in part prohibited except by special permission (Copyright) P. Murphy of the day and night session.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

No better tea to drink
you need. No better tea
to serve your friends

TETLEY

In individual tea-bags, too

HEAR THE NEW CEREAL

So crisp it crackles out loud!

Your own ears will tell you how good Rice Krispies are before you even taste them. Those crisp rice bubbles just pop and crackle when you pour on the milk or cream!

And what a flavor! That toasted rice flavor—makes your spoon get busy!

Serve Rice Krispies for breakfast. Enjoy them for lunch with fruits or honey added. And because they are so nourishing and easy to digest, they are ideal for the kiddies' supper.

Put them in soups. Make crunchy macaroons and candies. Eat them plain or butter and serve like pop corn. They're delicious dozens of ways.

Order a crisp red-and-green package from your grocer today. Oven-fresh and tasty! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

READY TO EAT
HELP YOURSELF TO
NUTRITIOUS CRACKLES
KELLOGG COMPANY
BATTLE CREEK, MICH. LONDON, ENGL.

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

READY TO EAT
HELP YOURSELF TO
NUTRITIOUS CRACKLES
KELLOGG COMPANY
BATTLE CREEK, MICH. LONDON, ENGL.

AUCTION BRIDGE

by WILBUR C. WHITEHEAD
The World's Greatest Authority

NO TRUMP BIDS
Bids of One No Trump
By Dealer or Second Hand.
The minimum requirements for an original bid of one No Trump by Dealer or Second Hand are: (a) YOUR PROBABLE TRICKS in-clusive of at least TWO QUICK TRICKS distributed in three or more suits; or (b) TWO QUICK TRICKS distributed in two suits with protection in a third suit; or (c) YOUR QUICK TRICKS in two short unbid suits with no third suit protected. To illustrate:

One No Trump One No Trump
 1942 1942
 K1052 K1052
 A Q A Q
 Q1084 Q1084

One No Trump One No Trump
 173 173
 A102 A102
 K1053 K1053
 K10 K10

Third Hand
 One No Trump One No Trump
 A83 A195
 K102 K143
 K986 K986
 K9 K632

Fourth Hand
 One No Trump One No Trump
 A81 A193
 A102 A143
 K986 K986
 K9 K632

If hand be void of a suit or if it contain a singleton of an unprotected doubleton, an initial suit whenever possible is preferable to that of an initial No Trump. As regulated, original No Trump bids guarantee partner at least three cards, or if but two cards,

MEDBURY SAYS—
By JOHN P. MEDBURY
THOUSANDS of married men can't get out in the evening. They have to have their life in the daytime.

Pitiful Cases
The absent-minded publisher who forgot to take his shoes off before he threw it at the cat.

Vital Statistics
Public Improvements
There's a new cigarette lighter on the market. It has a special compartment for matches.

Auto-Suggestion
The patrol wagon isn't much of a car, but it'll do in a pinch.

Our Own Vanderville
Brown—So you're in the Woodworth building. What floor do you work on?
Smith—I don't work on the floor; I have a desk.

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN
The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for published smart sayings. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston Evening American.

Yesterday's Toughest
The thirty Scotchman who's glad he was born in this country. He said it saved him the fare out.

Take It Or Leave It
Bureaus were invented so that collared buttons would have something to roll under.

Excess Is Pleas
Divorces cost more than marriages.

Daily Cross-Word Puzzle
An Education In Miniature

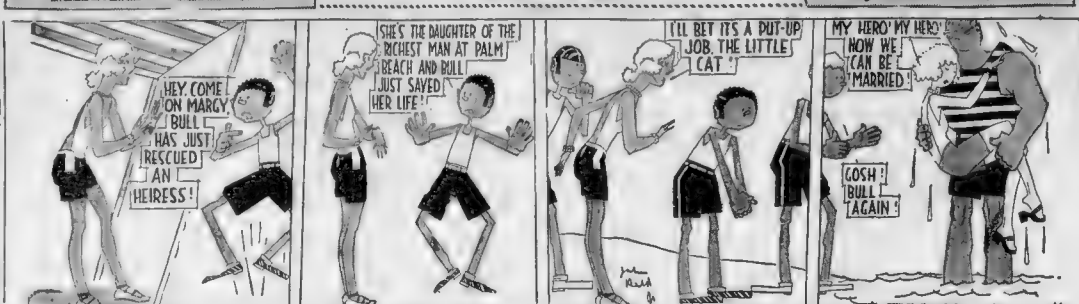

HORIZONTAL
1—wine 16—supposition 31—sprain 42—body of 32—speech 43—body of 33—behold 44—body of 34—tea 45—body of 35—code 46—body of 36—due 47—body of 37—energy 48—body of 38—beam 49—body of 39—snake 50—body of 40—certain 51—body of 41—ing to 52—body of 42—panish 53—body of 43—seat 54—body of 44—journal 55—chair 56—body of 45—like 57—body of 46—united 58—body of 47—closely 59—body of 48—six 60—body of 49—number 61—body of 50—mean 62—body of 51—pot 63—body of 52—worry 64—body of 53—wre 65—body of 54—possessed 66—body of 55—open to 67—body of 56—view 68—body of 57—dances 69—body of 58—body of 59—body of 60—body of 61—body of 62—body of 63—body of 64—body of 65—body of 66—body of 67—body of 68—body of 69—body of 70—body of

VERTICAL
1—back 10—purify 2—depart 11—swine 3—negative 12—afternoon 4—mob 13—luncheon 5—filament 14—ship 6—water 15—ship 7—pole 16—target 8—printer's 17—small nail 9—measure 18—stage 19—lating 20—part of 21—be 22—lessened 23—telegram 24—scale deer 25—assist 26—to dream 27—bound 28—kutting 29—read 30—trample 31—subtract 32—fair 33—fair 34—guided 35—rain 36—rain 37—rain 38—rain 39—rain 40—rain 41—rain 42—rain 43—rain 44—rain 45—rain 46—rain 47—rain 48—rain 49—rain 50—rain 51—rain 52—rain 53—rain 54—rain 55—rain 56—rain 57—rain 58—rain 59—rain 60—rain 61—rain 62—rain 63—rain 64—rain 65—rain 66—rain 67—rain 68—rain 69—rain 70—rain

MERELY MARGY

Story by Lloyd Mayer

By John Held, Jr.

"My dear, I'm simply LIVED at this point! I mean I'm PRAC-tically ready to ROLL over and BUTTER myself with IRE, no less, because I mean Arab suddenly came ROARING FRANTICALLY UP to me with the announcement that BULL had just rescued an HEIRESS from DROWNING! Did you ever in your LIFE hear of any thing so RIDIC? I mean practically EVERYBODY can SWIM nowadays, my dear, and there's simply no excuse for BULL to go running round hectoring these POISONOUS SLEAZY fluffers who just make a SCENE at the BEACH to get some ATTENTION from the GULLEible horse like BULL who have the quaint idea that ALL women are perfectly SINCERE and everything—you know the type! Well, ANY-way, my dear, the whole POINT is that BULL's gotten himself FRIGHTFULLY INVOLVED because apparently he's been roped IN by this poisonous woman, my dear, who wants to MARRY him, no less—and you BEAR UP! I mean there's NOBODY who'd be more THRILLED than I would if BULL were marrying some AWFULLY sweet GIRL, but I simply LOATHED having him involved into MARRIAGE with a little cat just because he thinks he ought to be gallant about it and all my dear, only he's SO dumb you can't make him SEE he's making a TERRIBLE MISTAKE, my dear, because WAIT till you hear about my heavy DISCUSSION with him on the quaint point! I mean it's all so VAUGE I'M COMPLETELY BAFLED and nonPLUSED—I mean I Actually AM!"

Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Dinty Has Jiggs Going

By George McManus

© 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

GOOD TIME GUY

Bold, Brave Men

By Frank Smiley

© 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

BARNEY GOOGLE

An Escape in the Dark

By De Beck

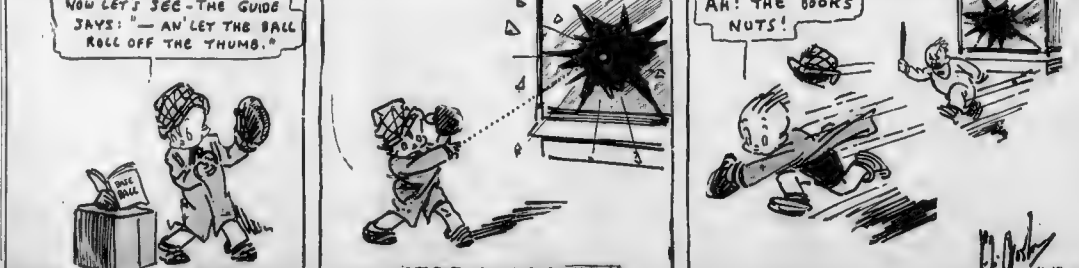

© 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

SKIPPIY

The Book's Wrong

By Percy Crosby

© 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

 "IN OLD ARIZONA" All Talking Comedy "MELANCHOLY GAME" Other Subjects	 "BUDDIES" The Walldorf Players in the Star Success
--	--

